Dear colleagues and friends,

It is our great honor to invite you to the 20th World Congress of the International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS), which will be held from June 1 to 5, 2013 at the COEX Convention and Exhibition Center in Seoul, Korea.

Under the active guide of the IFOS Program Advisory Committee, the comprehensive scientific program will follow the successful blueprint used in past IFOS World Congresses, while incorporating innovative new elements to provide a lively and compelling educational experience.

For those seeking to expand their knowledge of the field and learn about the most up-to-date advancements and discoveries, the IFOS Seoul 2013 cannot be missed. The Congress will also include special social and tour programs which will give you and your family a chance to experience our unique Asian culture and explore the beautiful and historic city of Seoul in addition to other parts of Korea.

Finally, a world-class exhibition will take place in COEX’s premier facilities where exhibitors from around the world will be able to display their new ENT products and services for all IFOS delegates. With tremendous support from the Korean Society of Otorhinolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery (KORL) and the Korean Society of Otorhinolaryngologic Clinician (KOSOC), the organizing committee promises to deliver a dynamic and unmatched experience for all participants.

It is our sincerest hope that, as in past Congresses, IFOS Seoul 2013 will bring all of us together to share in the common goal of advancing and developing the field of Otorhinolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery.

IFOS Seoul 2013
“Innovation and Integration in ORL-HNS”
Dear friends,

It is with great pleasure that I write to you, on behalf of the International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS), about the upcoming 20th World Congress which will be held from June 1 to 5, 2013 in Seoul, Korea.

There have been many recent exciting developments in the science of otorhinolaryngology and in patient care which we plan to examine and discuss at this crucial meeting. At our previous congresses, ENT professionals around the globe have enjoyed a stimulating scientific and social program. At this congress, we will take a critical look at new and existing clinical treatments.

The scientific program is designed to meet the aim of the 20th IFOS World Congress which is "Innovation and Integration in ORL-HNS"; it will consist of special and keynote lectures, round table and panel discussions, symposia, instructional courses and free paper sessions such as oral, e-poster and video presentations.

This 20th congress in the series should yet again prove to be an important milestone for clinical scientists and practicing health care workers from all disciplines of otorhinolaryngology. Together, we will further the management and treatment of patients and advance the field of otorhinolaryngology.

I really look forward to welcoming you to historic Seoul and to a very successful congress.

Paulo Pontes
President, IFOS

Greetings!

Back in 2009 in Sao Paulo, the International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS) General Assembly chose Seoul and the Korean Society of ORL-HNS to organize the World Congress in 2013. Their preparations have shown that this was an excellent decision.

The organizing committee, under the presidency of Chong Sun Kim, has already done a tremendous job preparing every detail of the biggest ORL event. Over 300 sessions covering nearly every aspect of ORL-HNS have been planned, with participation from over 1,000 international faculty members.

The World Congress is also a great chance to meet colleagues from every corner of the world, to share clinical experiences and developments and to enjoy the unique culture, cuisine and atmosphere of Korea.

It is a pleasure for me as General Secretary of IFOS to invite all of you to come to Seoul and participate in the world’s largest ORL event to increase its scientific and social value.

I hope to see you all in Seoul.

Milan Profant
General Secretary, IFOS
About IFOS

The International Federation of Oto-Rhino-Laryngological Societies (IFOS) is a non-political organization representing over 50,000 Otolaryngologists belonging to about 120 member nations.

IFOS was founded in 1965 and it has evolved to deal on a global basis with the problems of people with ORL disease by means of an active secretariat and committee structure; lobbying the World Health Organization; leading the global program for hearing loss prevention; providing interchange between centers, especially in Europe through the Twin Cities Project; publishing a newsletter and maintaining the interactive website. It has a continuing medical educational role and has developed a model undergraduate curricula; it has now initiated CME conferences between World Congresses and recently started the Worldwide Action "Hearing for All".

About Seoul

Visitors to Seoul are often struck by the city’s incredibly diverse atmosphere and multi-faceted profile. Evidence of Korea’s fabled economic development and technological initiative abounds, yet Seoul’s illustrious history, dating back to the founding of the Joseon Dynasty in 1392, has hardly been ignored. Grand imperial palaces and serene temples have been meticulously preserved amongst the towering skyscrapers and busy urban sprawl that have come to be associated with modern Seoul. Recently, the city has been making a solid push to re-establish its natural beauty and environmentally friendly side. In addition to the lush forests and mountains which encircle Seoul, successful projects to landscape and restore the Cheongyecheon (Stream) and Hangang (River) banks have provided a wonderful refuge from the pressures of urban life.

The Cochlea & MED-EL Electrodes

The cochlea is situated in the inner ear and is approximately 7mm in diameter or the size of a pea. In the cochlea are three fluid-filled canals called the scala tympani, scala media and scala vestibuli. These canals are responsible for transmitting sound vibrations to the neural structures. It is in one of these canals that an electrode array of a cochlear implant is inserted. However, it has been established that the scala tympani is the ideal location for an electrode array. Due to their design, MED-EL electrodes are perfectly suited for insertion into the scala tympani. Once in the scala tympani, it is also important that the electrode array does not perforate the wall of a neighbouring canal thereby destroying membranes and neural structures.

MED-EL electrodes have been specifically engineered to protect the neural structures of the cochlea. Due to their ultra-soft and flexible design the electrodes allow for gentle insertion causing minimal friction and optimal placement in the scala tympani.
